Schools, already big business, are going to become bigger business, David C. Houck, business manager of the Upper Adams Joint School System, told the Adams County Bankers Association at its meeting Wednesday evening at the Peace Light Inn.

Houck said census figures reveal that the school population will continue to increase. "We had hoped that it would level off eventually, but now there is no evidence of a decline in the number of children coming into the schools. Using the Upper Adams system as an example, five years ago we had 120 new children starting school. This year we will have 165 to 170 starting school. And the census figures on the number of pre-school children indicate that the number starting school in the next few years will be about 180 to 185 per year. It just keeps going up and up steadily."

Future Increase

Assistant County Superintendent of Schools M. Francis Coulson said, "Children coming into the schools today are the children of those born in the 1930s when the birth rate was low. We can imagine what it will be like a few years from now when the present huge crop of children become adults, marry and begin to have children."

"We spent $2,846,113.20 for the educational system in Adams County last year and with more children coming into the system each year, that amount will increase. Of the nearly $3,000,000 for Adams County schools during the year, 34 per cent came from local taxation, 53 per cent from state subsidies and the other eight per cent from other sources. However that which comes from the state comes from taxes—mostly the three per cent sales tax."

Average Cost Unchanged

While school costs "have increased, the average citizen is actually, in proportion to what he makes, spending no more for schools today than he did 16 years ago. A national comparison showed that in 1932 the average citizen had to spend 3.7 per cent of his personal income to support the schools. In 1954 the average citizen spent 3.2 per cent. While no figures are available for 1957-58, the great increase in the national income compared to the increase in school costs would indicate that, on the average, the percentage figures remain about the same."

"We hear much about the teacher salaries but the figures show that the position of the teacher has not improved, but rather has declined since 1932. In that year the average teacher received $1,417 a year, but compared to the average wage earners he was better off, for the average."

Sleet, Snow Brings Out Cinders, Plows

Sleet that began about 9 o'clock Wednesday evening and later changed to rain but which fell on Mt. Neuman as snow to a depth of about two inches brought out state Highway Department cinder crews and three snow plows about 11 p.m. They worked through the night until about 5 o'clock this morning.

Ten cinder crews were busy in areas where freezing temperatures made highways dangerous.

In Gettysburg the mercury dropped to 32 degrees during the night and nearly a half inch of water fell as rain and sleet up to 8:30 a.m.

Democrats Are Deadlocked Over Gubernatorial Battle After Hot Fight Wednesday

By LEONARD A. UNGER

HARRISBURG (P) — A seething deadlock gripped Democratic leaders today as a consequence of Gov. Lawrence's failure to swing a draft of Richardson Dilworth as the organization candidate for governor.

The governor's proposal was reportedly blocked by two of the most powerful figures in the party—Mayor David L. Lawrence of Pittsburgh and U. S. Rep. William J. Green Jr., Philadelphia Democratic chairman.

A top Democrat, who asked not to be identified, said harsh words bordering on actual name-calling turned the eight-hour slatemaking conference into chaotic disagreement.

Will Try Again

A new attempt is planned at another session next Monday with no immediate indication that a compromise is in the works.

The Democratic source said both Lawrence and Green took Leader to task for what they construed to be a threat by the governor that he would not run for governor although Dilworth has indicated privately he would be receptive to a draft. Any open candidacy by Dilworth would force his resignation as mayor under Philadelphia's city charter.

Rep. Walter Judd Speaks Here Friday

The public has been invited to Bruns Chapel on the college campus Friday evening at 8 o'clock to hear Dr. Walter H. Judd, congressman from Minneapolis, speak on the position of the United States in world affairs. He is coming here at the invitation of the Chi Omega sorority of the college.

Dr. Judd is serving his eighth consecutive term as a member of Congress from Minnesota's Fifth District and is a widely recognized authority of world affairs. He is a member of the House Committee on Foreign Affairs. He is a former medical missionary to China and served there for 10 years.

A native of Nebraska, Dr. Judd worked his way through the University of Nebraska and medical school before enlisting in the U. S. Army in World War I. He served in the field artillery and came out a lieutenant. Repeated malaria attacks forced him to give up his missionary work in China where he had survived both bandits and Communists. He later returned to North China and operated a hospital there and was under Japanese control after the invasion. He has been in Congress since 1942.

TELL COURT OF POULTRYMEN'S FLEXIBLE PACTS

Prominent poultrymen took the witness stand in Adams County court Wednesday afternoon to testify that "in Adams County and throughout the U. S." agreements between poultrymen are extremely flexible.

Roy Heckenluber, Arendtsville, president of the county Poultry Federation and past president of the Pennsylvania Poultry Federation, went so far as to claim that "unfortunately in the state, and in the United States, agreements between breeders and hatcherymen are so flexible that they aren't really agreements at all."

Heckenluber, Glenn Kime, Gardners, and Thomas M. Bross, Abbotstown R. D., all testified that to their own loss they had learned that agreements between hatcherymen and breeders have little meaning and the loss is sustained by the breeder if the hatcherymen cannot take the eggs. "That is the way the poultry business is conducted," they said, and "everyone knows it." Heckenluber went further and said that the turkey business last summer was "the worst it has ever been."

No Jury Involved

The poultrymen were joined by a feed salesman, Robert F. Keith, New Oxford, who, along with Heckenluber, held that even when written contracts are given the hatcheryman so that he is not required to take eggs at a previously agreed price when the time comes for the eggs to be turned over.

Testimony of the men was given in the action in assumpt brought by Dr. C. H. Webster, McSherrystown chiropractor, and his wife against Kent E. Golden, York Springs R. 1 hatcheryman, and his wife.

Final testimony in the case was heard Wednesday afternoon, with the attorneys for the two sides presenting their arguments before the court this morning. The trial was held before the court without a jury.

Counter Claim Involved

Dr. and Mrs. Webster are suing the Golden because, they claim, the Golden arranged for the Webster to be turned over.

TOWN CITIZENS PAID $286,031 IN 1957 TAXES

Gettysburg residents paid $286,031.14 during 1957 on their tax bill of $300,355.75 and still owe $9,086.76 to the various taxing bodies.

The amount owing plus the amount paid does not equal the amount of the original bill because the townspeople saved themselves $5,244.13 by paying early and thus getting a discount on their taxes.

The report of Tax Collector J. Herbert Weikert filed today shows that the county clerk of courts shows that the townspeople also paid $4,221.63 on last year's taxes and paid $208.96 penalties when they brought in their taxes late.

According to the report, the 1,696 persons assessed for real estate taxes and the 3,237 on whom poll tax was levied paid a total of $293,846.60 during the year — either in cash, or in credit through the discounts given them for paying early. Thus the borough received $44,758.48 in taxes, the school district $189,435.87, the county $46,224.67 and the institution district $13,427.58. The collection was made at a cost of $9,358.63 of which $8,114.79 was the gross amount turned over to Tax Collector Weikert. The report showed he had expenses totaling $2,195.13 from that amount. His expenses included office help, postage, and various other costs involved in the work.

The account also showed that some Gettysburgians are comparatively large holders of stocks, bonds, mortgages, etc., on which the four per cent county personal property tax is levied. The report showed Gettysburgians owned $3,795,655 worth of the "personal property" and paid $14,887.89 tax on their holdings.

FOUR FREDERICK YOUTHS ARE TOLD TO SHUN COUNTY

Four Frederick youths were told by the Adams County court Wednesday afternoon to stay out of the county and see that their friends also refrain from visiting here. The four are Alvis Jackson Jr., 20; Marshall Allen III, 19; Bernard Ambush, 19, and Bernard T. Moore, 21.

All pleaded guilty before the court Wednesday afternoon to one of three counts of inciting to riot and were sentenced to from 28 days to one year in jail each.

Because all four had already served 28 days in jail awaiting sentence, the court told them they could be placed on probation for one year as soon as they paid the $59.75 costs in the case. The men were still in jail this morning waiting for relatives to raise the money.

Jail Term Threatens

One of the conditions of the probation is that the four stay out of Adams County. They were also told to pass the word to their friends that they are not welcome in Adams County either. Any visits by "friends" to "even scores" could result in Jackson, Allen, Ambush and Moore returning to the Adams County jail, the court said.

The four were charged with inciting to riot at and near the restaurant of Mrs. Betty Rupp, Wainwright Ave. near the high school, on the night of January 25. The transcript held they "by divers means, threats, provocations, invitations to fight, assaults and by other actions, being armed by a pistol, pipe, broken bottles, etc., and by making assault with them did incite other persons in Gettysburg to riot, tending to provoke and encourage breach of peace, by participating in a riot . . . and did conspire and agree to do the above unlawful acts."

The transcript showed the Frederick youths and a group of Gettysburg youths engaged in a dispute over a period of time and in the course of it a "Pat Haley" was struck a blow by a pipe.

The people of the county, among whom statistics show half of the deaths are due to some form of heart disease, are interested in helping the county association in its program of research, education and service," the Rev. Mr. Held said.

The Heart Fund appeal began February 1.

Tornadoes, Snow, Hail And Strong Winds Lash Sections Of Plains Area; Ten Dead

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Violent weather which hammered mid-Southern and Western areas of the country yesterday and last night left in its wake a heavy toll of dead and injured and extensive property damage.

Tornadoes, thunderstorms, snow, hail, strong winds and dust storms struck sections from the Plains to Mississippi. Wet weather covered most of the Eastern two-thirds of the nation.

Twisters last night skipped across a 140-mile-wide area in central and eastern Mississippi, killing at least 10 persons and injuring an estimated 70 others. Two tornadoes also hit areas in Oklahoma but no casualties were reported.

The intense storm which moved across the Plains and was centered in eastern Oklahoma early today was blamed for the variety of violent weather.

RED CROSS TO OPEN CAMPAIGN FOR $17,620

Directors of the Adams County Red Cross chapter Wednesday evening went over plans for the $17,620 fund drive that opens Saturday and directed its Finance committee to renew contacts with the Community Chest with a view to entering the Chest to raise 1959 funds from Gettysburg and the immediate rural vicinity.

Mrs. Harold Streett, campaign chairman, said her staff of captains is complete for the 17 districts into which the county has been divided for the 1958 fund campaign. She is helping captains enlist solicitors for the house-to-house canvass that will begin Saturday and continue through the month of March.

She said $1,345 already has been received in advance gifts and Chairman George W. Naugle said that the "thoroughness with which Mrs. Streett has made her preparations for the campaign gives promise of a successful drive."

No Effect On March Drive

A month ago, the Red Cross directors had indicated little interest in becoming a member of the Community Chest organizations but the approaching removal of the Recreation Association from the Chest has changed the local situation in the opinion of many of the board. Col. Edwin Johnson is chairman of the committee that will re-open conversations with the Chest officials.

When a report and recommendations are received from that committee, the board will take final action, Mr. Naugle indicated. That decision may come at the next meeting on March 25.

Community Chest negotiations will not have any effect on plans for the 1958 fund campaign which opens Saturday. Sunday will be Red Cross Sunday throughout the county.

Helped 37 Fire Victims

Reports submitted at Wednesday's meeting showed the Red Cross in the last month helped 37 county residents who lost their homes or all of their possessions by fire. The Red Cross helped gather food, clothing and furniture for the fire victims.

The directors discussed briefly the summer water safety and swimming instruction program, the need for instructors and steps to be taken to secure enough trained staff to handle the mounting enrollment.

The chapter received an offer of volunteer help from members of a college sorority and they will be called upon to help with campaign work in March as a "Help Week" project.

Home Service Report

The Home Service committee report showed 107 office calls in the last month. There were 23 active servicemen, four veterans and 26 civilians aided. Two meal tickets were issued and three food orders. Eight home visits were made and 23 verifications for servicemen's leaves were handled. One visit to a veterans' hospital was made.

A report was given on the formation of a Red Cross first aid class at Keefeauver School in cooperation with the local PTA.

The treasurer's report showed a current balance of $556.

MACK SAYS HE WILL NOT QUIT HIS FCC OFFICE

WASHINGTON (AP)—Richard A. Mack said today he will not resign from the Federal Communications Commission. He swore he was not influenced or swayed by appeals from friends in a contested television license case.

Mack further told a House investigating subcommittee under oath that he is getting rid of his interest in a Miami insurance agency which wrote the insurance on the successful applicant in the contest for Miami's TV Channel 10.

Mack said that it was only last Monday when he read the newspapers that he knew this agency, Sembler-Shelden Insurance Agency, Inc., had obtained the business from Public Service Television, Inc.

$250 Not Repaid
Mack acknowledged borrowings totaling $4,980 since 1950 from Miami Attorney Thurman A. Whiteside. He said all but $250 has been repaid.

A Republican member of the committee said earlier that Mack should resign immediately, and if he didn't, should be removed from office.

Mack had told reporters before going into the hearing room that he was not going to resign.

steps to purchase a number of poults from them and care for them in a special fashion with the promise that the Golden would purchase the eggs from 800 of the hens at 30 cents apiece during the season last April. The Websters said the Golden did not take the eggs at that price and as a result the Websters had to sell more than 12,000 eggs "as best we could" and suffered a loss.

The Golden agreed that such a contract was originally made between the two parties for purchase of eggs from 600 hens but held that later the agreement was changed in the light of the turkey situation last spring. The feed salesman, Robert Keith, said he was the one who suggested the new agreement concerning the disposition of the eggs and said he understood both Dr. Webster and the Golden agreed to the change. Dr. Webster said he didn't agree to any change. Mrs. Webster said she knew of no change in the original agreement. Bros said Golden arranged with him to buy 12,000 of the eggs produced by Dr. Webster's turkeys when Golden could not handle the hatching. He said he agreed to pay 22 cents a piece for the eggs, but when he went to see Dr. Webster, Webster told him he wasn't going to get the eggs because Dr. Webster had made another agreement to sell all of his eggs.

The court will have to determine claims by both the plaintiffs and defendants to damages from the other, with the Golden having entered a counter claim against the Websters after the original complaint was filed by the McSherrytown couple.

4 SEMINARIANS STUDYING UNDER DR. R. H. FISCHER

LONDON—Four Lutheran ministerial candidates are studying at Mansfield College of Oxford University under Dr. Robert H. Fischer, graduate of the Gettysburg Lutheran Seminary, who last October became the first Lutheran theological tutor in modern times at the world-famous university.

Dr. Fischer, professor of historical theology at Chicago Lutheran Theological Seminary, in Maywood, Ill., matriculated as a "senior member" of Oxford University and received the special status of "Master of Arts." His students include two of Latvian and one each of Estonian and Lithuanian background.

The Lutheran Council of Great Britain, formed to co-ordinate a spiritual ministry to approximately 40,000 Lutherans now settled in that country, had for many years felt the need to train ministers in Britain who will eventually serve there. After long and careful planning by the Council and by Lutheran World Federation authorities, the Federation's Department of World Service agreed to support a Lutheran tutor at Oxford, Mansfield College, the Congregational theological school at the university, agreed to accept the Lutheran tutor into its faculty.

Has Faculty Status
In Oxford the appointment of a graduate from another university to a college tutorship does not of itself secure membership in the university. Dr. Marsh, the principal of Mansfield College, took steps to gain recognition for the Lutheran tutor. He successfully petitioned the university's Hebdomadal Council to grant Dr. Fischer that status of "Master of Arts" for the duration of his service at Oxford. Though this action is not equivalent to the conferring of an honorary degree, it means that the university has now recognized Dr. Fischer as a member of the faculty, with the privilege of publicly announcing courses of lectures.

Dr. Fischer will offer lectures and seminars on Reformation history and Lutheran theology, open to university students generally. He will tutor Lutheran students in subjects pertaining to the Lutheran ministry for which they could not otherwise obtain guidance at Oxford, and will serve as their unofficial "dean" in Mansfield College.

HAVERSTOCK RITES
Funeral services for Mervin Dancy Haverstock, 68, New Oxford R. 1, who died suddenly at his home in Hamilton Twp. Sunday morning at a heart condition, were held Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the Pittenturf Funeral Home, York Springs, with the Rev. Jack Gardner officiating. Interment was in the New Oxford Cemetery. The pallbearers were W. S. and William Haverstock, Earl Philips, Donald Deardorff, Ralph Miller and George Noel.

"TALK"

Talk can be beneficial . . . or it can do much harm . . . it all depends on what we say . . . to harass or to charm . . . it has been said that talk is cheap . . . and yet its cost is high . . . one word can make the difference if . . . we are to do or die . . . talk fosters grief and happiness . . . it is a potent thing . . . traveling around the world . . . like birds upon the wing . . . they say action speaks louder . . . than any word or speech . . . it's true in part, still I believe . . . talk has the longest reach . . . for it's been proven many times . . . how talk can ease the heart . . . sweet words of love and tenderness . . . have treasures to impart . . . just bear in mind this single thought . . . when you are prone to squawk . . . the world and you will better be . . . if thought precedes your talk.

Out Of The Past

From the Files of the Star and Sentinel and The Gettysburg Times

TWENTY YEARS AGO

M. A. Miller, For 21 Yrs. Guard On Field, To Retire: Maurice A. Miller, 111 East Middle street, veteran National Park service employee and for nearly 21 years a Gettysburg battlefield guard, will retire on Monday, it was announced today from the national park office here. Last Tuesday, February 22, Miller observed his seventeenth birthday anniversary.

During his patrol of sections of the battlefield assigned to him during his service as guard, Miller walked more than 76,000 miles, or more than three around the world. The estimate is based in a count made by Miller a number of years ago when he carried a pedometer on his belt and found that the average daily trip was about 11 miles. Entering the park service as a laborer on June 12, 1911, Miller's first assignment was building stone fences on the battlefield at $1.50 a day. His duties as a guard began on July 1, 1917.

YOUR BELIEVE-INS

Just imagine what an unhappy human being you would be if you did not have even one solitary human being to love or to believe in you! But don't worry. The chances are that you have a mother who is sure to stand by you to the very end, no matter what — unconditionally. That's the way Mothers do. Many and many a man had no other friend to fall back upon but that famous "man's best friend" — the dog! But regardless of the fact that that creature cannot talk, he can express himself, and he does in dozens of ways. If his master dies, the dog will follow him to his grave, and will often lie there without food or other companion than the one he so much loved in life.

What a rare and wonderful thing it is for someone to love and believe in us! How otherwise could we get through life on any basis of happiness? On the other hand, what a privilege to believe in someone else and to give to that one the belief that may lift him to the success he most desires.

You see, someone must believe in us if we would hope for a happy and successful career. But when we turn the idea around and seek to be a believe-in for someone else, the story changes. Why can't all of us believe in everyone, thus cementing us into a world-wide unity of trust and good will? What an honor it is to be an American, ready to immediately drop all preparations for war or defense, wishing only for the happiness and comfort of every human being in this troubled world. The moment you get even a single person to believe in you, you are then on your way up the big hill!

CHOICE

Don't want riches, don't want fame; Rather take an honored name. Rather pass and leave behind Traces that my hands were kind Than die the richest man on earth With only gold to prove my worth.

Don't care if I never win This great struggle I am in, Just so long as men shall say I was fair from day to day; Rather fall than grab the crown, Trampling truth and honor down.

Gold and fame are fine to see, But if they shall come to me They must pass inside my door Bringing with them something more; They must bring their treasures lined.

With the proof that I've been kind. Copyright, 1958, by Edgar A. Guest come "First President" of United States Until 1932: By Associated Press — Did George Washington ever go to a clam bake? How did he feel about the liquor question? Did he have any children?

Washington was born in Virginia — 206 years ago. His father operated iron mines and had a lot of farm land. Washington had five brothers and sisters. He was tall, over six feet two — he was a millionaire — his estate at its height is estimated to have been worth $5,000,000 in current money.

He did go to clam bakes, drank along with everybody else and gambled on cards and billiards (that's in his account books). He had no children.

His wife, Martha, whom he married when they were both 27, was the widow of Daniel Custis. His death was caused by acute laryngitis and the age and his last words were funeral instructions to his secretary, Tobias Lear.

Washington was the first President according to the state department. The several presidents of the Continental Congress listed themselves as "President of the United States" and it wasn't until 1932 that the State Department decided that Washington was the first President.

HOW TO TAP YOUR "HIDDEN" STRENGTH

By TOM COURTNEY
PFC, U.S. Army

Five times the Olympics race got off to a false start. Each time we were called back, we grew more tense.

This was the greatest moment in my track career — the World Olympics of 1956. For more than seven years, I had trained, competed, and dreamed towards the awesome moment when I would crouch at the starting line of the 800-meter race with the world's finest runners.

Tom Courtney

In a sport like baseball, you have your teammates to help cover for you in case of an error, but in track you're completely on your own. Even men from your own school are out to beat you. Therefore, it was the individuality of track that soon became such a challenge to me.

A Reserve
Coaches told me: "Plenty of sleep every night. No smoking or drinking. Watch your diet to avoid excess weight, and learn to build up a reserve: that's a runner's secret strength."

I practiced every day and stuck rigidly to the training rules, but I didn't yet completely understand this "secret strength."

When I entered Fordham University, track and studies occupied all my time, both of them so demanding that many nights I had just enough strength to make it to my bed before falling asleep.

Yet I was learning that all the demands, all the restrictions, were essential to becoming a champion, and I wanted that very much. To want to win is an integral part of sports.

Determination
What was it that kept me practicing and observing training rules day after day? Determination. This, I decided, was the key factor in building up this "secret strength."

In my junior year at Fordham, Coach Artie O'Connor mentioned making the Olympics to me for the first time.

As I began training for this great event, I soon discovered that my severest competition in the 800-meters would come from Arnie Sowell of Pittsburgh.

During trials at Melbourne, I studied all the runners. Arnie, I concluded, was still the man I would have to beat.

Some Unnerved
The five false starts of the 800-meter race unnerved some of the runners. I tried to calm myself by removing the importance of the moment from my mind. And then we were off, the eight of us.

I was aware of the others around me, their breath strong and steady, their pace rhythmic and determined. We remained in a group most of the way, then Arnie moved ahead, holding front position with his graceful skill. Then, 140 meters from the finish, Arnie moved out farther.

I didn't want to start my sprint this early, but I thought, "Suppose Arnie can go all the way." With 120 meters to go I made my move. Immediately, I knew it was a mistake. We were still far from the finish-line and I wasn't sure that I could keep up the pace.

Lost The Lead
I held the lead for almost 80 meters when suddenly Derek Johnson, the top English runner, passed me. We were still 20 meters from the finish-line. To me this was no longer an 800-meter race, but a 20-meter race. Where was that hidden strength?

I lunged ahead, my legs pounding numbly. I caught sight of the tape across the finish-line, but Johnson and I were moving too fast to keep an eye on it. I heard a roar from the crowd and saw trainers dart on to the track to catch me as I quickly slowed down. Fatigued, and in pain, I had strength only to say: "Who won?" Johnson said: "You did."

A Good Body
Later when reporters interviewed me, I said I felt I had won the race with the help of God. What did I mean?

I feel that I had won because on that day I was the fastest man on the track — certainly not because I earned the right from God to win it. But the Lord gave me a good body. He helped teach me self-discipline, and instill in me determination.

So I have discovered that it is His help that gives one the all important "secret strength" — not only for sports, but for all of life.

PLAN CHANGE IN PUBLIC SCHOOL REQUIREMENTS

HARRISBURG (AP) — The Public Instruction Department today laid the groundwork for implementing regulations adopted by the State Education Council to tighten public school requirements.

The council yesterday adopted a set of proposals made by Gov. Leader's Conference on Improvement of Education which met last January.

The proposals adopted by the council call for:
A required course in science from kindergarten to ninth grade. It is now required only in seventh and eighth grades.

Minimum requirements for high school graduation of three years of English, three years of social studies, one year of health and physical education, one year of science and one year of mathematics, or a foreign language.

A planned program of instruction in reading skills in seventh and eighth grade, either in the form of remedial or developmental reading.

Accelerated Programs
Accelerated programs of studies for gifted students, allowing them to complete high school in three years.

The council agreed that it would not be before 1961 that the science, mathematics and social studies requirements would be necessary for graduation.

Of the social studies, at least one year would have to be devoted to American history and government.

"The minute we approved these measures they became the regulations. Now the department will have to prepare steps to put them into effect," said Dr. Charles H. Boehm, superintendent of public instruction.

The 13 unit requirement for graduation will mark the first time in Pennsylvania that the state will stipulate how many units are required for a diploma.

Local school districts now establish the requirements for graduation. The only state requirement is that a youngster have two units of English, two of social studies and one of physical education.

Test Tube Baby In Divorce Court

LONDON (AP) — Can a British husband get a divorce on adultery charges if his wife has a test tube baby by someone else? The government is going to investigate the legal aspects of the question.

Prompted by a church attack on A.I.D.—artificial insemination from a donor other than the husband—the lord chancellor ordered the inquiry after debate last night on a House of Lords motion to make A.I.D. grounds for divorce and the test-tube babies resulting illegitimate.

A recent Scottish court ruling held that a woman who had been artificially impregnated without her husband's knowledge had not committed adultery. Estimates of Britain's annual crop of test-tube babies range between 5,000 and 10,000.

Tickets were donated by the physical-education department and the boys were taken to the Gettysburg-Franklin and Marshall basketball game. Afterwards they were entertained at the Phi Kappa Psi house. A small party was given featuring ice cream, cocoa and cookies. Each boy was introduced to all members of the varsity basketball team and given a package of cookies to take along.

Sharp Bucknell Squad Again Downs Bullets 80-58; Frosh Bow; Upsala Here Saturday

A sharp-looking Bucknell University basketball team throttled the Gettysburg College cagers 80-58 at Lewisburg Wednesday evening, the score being identical to that when the Bisons played here on December 11.

Hal Danzig, 6-6 Bucknell junior, turned in a tremendous performance by dropping through 27 points and capturing 20 rebounds while holding Del Warfel to 10 tallies. Jack Flanagan also was a standout for the Bisons, connecting on nine of 14 throws from the field.

The Bullets turned in a fair performance in the first half but dropped out of contention early in the second half as Ellis Harley and Danzig led Bucknell to a healthy lead.

Early in the game the Bullets tied their opponents at 2-2 and 7-7 but trailed thereafter. After about five minutes of play Gettysburg trailed only 15-14 but eight straight points gave the Bisons a comfortable edge. Just before the half ended Marty Kaye and Frank Grzelecki landed Bullet goals as Gettysburg was on the short end of a 33-28 half time score.

Bisons Pull Away
After the first few minutes of the second half the verdict was sealed as Bucknell showed its mastery in pulling steadily away. The Bisons connected on 19 of 35 shots in the last half and 34 of 75 for the entire game. Gettysburg made 22 of 60 attempts. Bucknell led in rebounding 52-37.

Grzelecki netted 13 points and 15 rebounds. Bobby Walsack topped the scoring with 18 while Warfel grabbed 11 rebounds.

The defeat was the 14th against eight wins for Coach Bob Hulton's squad. Bucknell now has a 13-8 mark.

In the preliminary the Bucknell freshmen led most of the way in winning 68-58 as Slife hit on a variety of one-handed shots to account for 24 points for the winners. The setback leveled the Bullets' record at 9-9.

Single Game Saturday
Upsala College, of East Orange, N. J., will come here Saturday night for the final Bullet home game. It is scheduled to start at 8:15.

The freshmen bring their season to an end by opposing Hill School at Pottstown on Saturday.

The Faculty Five added the playoff title to their regular season championship in the National Basketball League as they defeated the Celtics 56-53 Wednesday evening in the high school floor to complete an unbeaten 13-game season.

It was a see-saw battle with the Faculty pulling ahead midway in the last quarter and then withstanding a late surge by the Celtics.

Tonight at 7 o'clock Ed's Barber Shop and the Hanover Moose will meet for the playoff title of the American League.

That situation developed Wednesday evening when the Barbours topped Hess Antiques 57-53 and Hanover downed the Seminary Saints 64-41 in the semifinals.

ROBERTSON OF CINCINNATI IN SCORING LEAD

By ED WILKS
The Associated Press

Oscar Robertson, a quiet kid who plays the role of hatchman for Cincinnati, has shot back into the individual scoring lead in major college basketball while giving the Bearcats all but an official berth in next month's NCAA championships.

He bagged 50 points, 25 in each half, as Cincinnati downed the tourney-hopeful St. Louis Billikens last night 91-73. The Bearcats, No. 3 in the Associated Press poll, now are 21-2 and have pocketed no worse than a tie for the Missouri Valley Conference title.

Even if Cincinnati should be upset by Wichita Saturday and wind up in a deadlock with Bradley for the crown, it's a sure bet the Mo-Vals will select the Bearcats as its NCAA representatives.

Automatic Berths
Miami (Ohio) and Tennessee Tech won their conference championships, which carry automatic berths in the NCAA Tournament, but only Miami definitely is going to the playoffs.

Miami knocked off Marshall 82-73 for its fifth Mid-American title in seven years and now will meet Pitt in the Mid-East regionals at Evanston, Ill., March 11. Tennessee Tech defeated Morehead 66-63 in overtime for the Ohio Valley crown, but may not go to the NCAA since three men on the squad are four-year men and are not eligible for the tournament.

Morehead, the runner-up, might go instead, meeting Notre Dame at Evanston.

The Billikens, who had their eye on the National Invitation Tournament, grabbed a quick lead against Cincinnati and hung on for six minutes. After that, Oscar had 'em hanging by their thumbs, boosting his season scoring average to 34.4 points a game.

Idle Baylor Tumbles
Idle Elgin Baylor of Seattle tumbled to second with a 33.8 average after a 25-day stay on top. Elgin has totaled 709 points in 21 games while Robertson has scored 792 in 23. Each has three games left.

Miami blew a 10-point lead at the half and didn't bag the title until John Powell gained a 74-73 edge and set off a 10-0 sprint with a jump shot and two minutes left. Wayne Embry led the champs with 26 rebounds and 33 points.

MANTLE SIGNS FOR $68,000
ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP)—Mickey Mantle signed a one-year contract with the New York Yankees today for an estimated $68,000, the third highest salary in Yankee history.

Mantle, the most valuable player of the American League for the past two years, agreed to terms after a meeting with Lee MaiPhail, director of the team's personnel.

The outfielder hit .365 last year in 1956 he led the league in batting, home runs and runs batted in.

The highest paid Yankee of all time was Joe DiMaggio, who received $90,000 plus a bonus in 1949. Babe Ruth, the home run king, was paid $80,000 in 1927 and 1928.

Mantle reportedly received $58,000 last year.

PACE QUICKENS IN SCHOLASTIC CAGE CONTESTS

HARRISBURG (AP)—The first district championship has already been decided, while the pace is stepping up across the state in playoffs to decide contenders for regional and state honors.

Bedford of Dist. 5 wins the honor of garnering the first district crown. However, because of the peculiar makeup of the PIAA districts, there are only two Class A schools which vie annually for the crown. Bedford dumped Somerset, the other Class A contender, 47-38, to win a place in regional playoffs.

In the east, meanwhile, Chester (13-0) sewed up its fifth straight Sect. 1 League of Dist. 1 by squashing Lower Merion, 73-41. The Clippers are expected to go all the way to win the district crown.

Possibility of Allentown
An interesting development in Dist. 11 raised the possibility of defending champion Allentown may be back this year in playoffs. Allentown defeated Easton, 71-67 to tie up the second half race of the East Penn League. Bethlehem won the first half. The Canaries would have to win both the half and season playoffs to get into the district tournament.

This is how things shape up across the state:

In the west:
Dist. 7 — In first round playoff games Uniontown knocked over Strong Monessen, 82-55; Springfield surprised Baldwin, 36-35; Sharon defeated South Union, 54-40; and McKees Rocks upended Scott, 43-39.

Sharon's victory was its first playoff win on the long road to regional and state playoffs, as it seeks to retain the state title it won last year.

In action scheduled for tonight Washington was to meet Midland and powerful Ford City was to take on Uniontown.

Dist. 8 — Westinghouse defeated Washington Vocational, 54-42, to win the Sect. 1 crown. Westinghouse will square off against Sect. 2 winner, Langley, for the district and Pittsburgh City title March 7.

Dist. 9 — Dubois kept in the lead of the Dist. 9 league with an 85-54 overtime win over Reynolds. Punxsutawney dropped its third in a row, to Clearfield, to remove itself completely from loop contention.

York Has 19 Now
In the east:
Dist. 2 — Plymouth ran its string of second half wins in the Wyoming Valley League to seven, defeating Hanover, 57-50. It looks like a winner in the league.

Swoyersville did the same in North League, appearing the probable contender for loop honors there.

Dist. 3 — Powerful York ran its string of victories to 19 against no defeats in downing Harrisburg Harris, 52-47. The Bearcats are the all-out favorite for the Central Penn crown and Dist. 3 honors.

Meanwhile, Hanover routed Chambersburg 79-55, to mark itself as a possible contender to successfully defend its South Penn League title. Waynesboro maintained a slight edge in downing Middletown, 81-65.

Dist. 4 — Williamsport continued to show strength in defeating Sayre, 75-66.

Sunbury, the current favorite to win the district crown, crushed Lewisburg, 53-28, to maintain its undefeated record in the home Susquehanna League. It has already won the loop crown.

BISONS TRY 8TH GOALIE
By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
In baseball, so the pitch line goes, you can't tell the players without a scorecard. In Buffalo, you need one to find out who is tending goal for the Bisons, last place club in the American Hockey League.

The Bisons tried their eighth goalie of the season last night, name of Dennis Dejordi, and nearly lost him during their fourth straight loss, this one 5-3 to the Providence Reds.

Dejordi, brought up from the St. Catharines Teepees, suffered a deep cut above his left eye 43 seconds before the end of the game in a scramble around the net. But he was able to be patched up and lasted out the seconds until the buzzer.

The new goalie made 25 saves to 22 for the winner's Marcel Paille, but Providence raked him for four goals in a whirlwind second period to clinch the game.

BASEBALL BOOM IN MOST CITIES BEING FORECAST

Advance ticket sales indicate a baseball attendance boom in most big league cities. Los Angeles, New York, Milwaukee and San Francisco are showing the way.

The Dodgers with their 100,000-seat Coliseum in Los Angeles expect to start smashing records opening day and hope to keep it up the rest of the year.

Harold Parrott, the club's business manager, says advance sales are "past the 1½-million-dollar mark and almost twice what they were at this date in Brooklyn last year."

Increase For Giants
Pete Hoffman, ticket manager for the San Francisco Giants, says approximately $925,000 is in the till, almost a 100 per cent increase over last year's sale at this time in New York.

With no more opposition from the Giants and Dodgers, the Yankees are reaping a rich harvest in New York. A month ago, club officials said the advance had reached 1½ million dollars. The club record of $1,700,000 probably has fallen already and the final tally on opening day may be close to two million dollars.

Milwaukee, as usual, expects to close out all its 12,000 season tickets long before the opener.

The Milwaukee Braves, Chicago Cubs and Boston Red Sox are the only clubs to increase prices. The increases ranged from 10 to 25 cents. Major league prices, of course, will be higher than the minor league scale in California.

BLAMES SCHOOL HEAD FOR LACK OF GIRLS' SPORTS
By JOHN HARWICK
Indiana Gazette Sports Editor

INDIANA, Pa. (AP)—Mary Lee Turner, successful coach of Salisbury High School's sensational girls' basketball team, blamed school administrators today for the lack of girls' sports throughout Pennsylvania.

Three of Salisbury's nearby opponents dropped girls basketball this year for one of two reasons—lack of a coach or to give more time to boy teams.

Miss Turner thinks this is unfair, saying: "The amount of money spent on activities for boys—football, basketball, baseball, track and wrestling—compared with the amount spent for activities on girls should cause a lot of red faces among administrators."

"Girls basketball is a phase of our educational program that most people in our own area know very little about. Some people are apt to ridicule or be opposed to something they've never seen or don't understand."

Teamwork, will to win, ability to make decisions, sportsmanship, team trips and physical conditioning are some of the values to be gained by girls in interscholastic sports, says the Salisbury mentor.

Since this hard-working teacher graduated from Slippery Rock State Teachers College in 1949 with a degree in health and physical education she has devoted a great deal of time to directing girls basketball.

During the eight seasons that popular Mary Lee has been coaching the well-known Trojanettes they have won 95 games, lost 16 and tied 3 in regular season play.

Miss Turner's girls went undefeated during the regular campaign last year with 16 straight victories. They won three more games in the Pittsburgh girls tournament before losing in the finals.

BROWN SCORES QUICK "KAYO"
HAVANA (AP)—Joe Brown, world lightweight champion from New Orleans, considered a possible title defense against nimble Ralph Dupas today after his "easiest fight," a first-round non-title knockout of Cuba's Orlando Echevarria.

In an atmosphere packed with political tension and after spending 72 hours under protective guard from Cuban rebels, Brown calmly fired two crushing rights that disposed of the Cuban champion in 2 minutes 50 seconds last night.

There were no incidents although fears of rebel sabotage held the crowd to an estimated 12,000—some 6,000 under seating capacity.

The U.S. National Boxing Assn. has warned Brown that unless he meets challenger Kenny Lane in a title bout by April 11, his title may be vacated. But a bout with Dupas, No. 4 contender from New Orleans, might satisfy the requirement.

Ex-Wife Reveals Marriage Of "Space Man" Farrell In 1952

TROY, N. Y. (AP) — Airman Donald Farrell, who made man's first "flight" into space, once was married and has a 4-year-old daughter, a Troy woman maintains.

Mrs. Norma J. Luraas, wife of a state trooper, said that she had sent a letter to the New York Daily News telling of her marriage to the 23-year-old Farrell, who spent seven days recently in a simulated rocket ship as part of an Air Force experiment.

The News said Farrell had admitted the marriage.

Mrs. Luraas and Farrell, who is now on a round of personal appearances in New York City, were married Jan. 26, 1952, in Glens Falls, when each was 17. She said, and their marriage was annulled in April 1954 on the legal ground that they were too young when married.

Daughter Born In 1953
A daughter, Heidi, was born Aug. 26, 1953.

Terms of her parting with Farrell provided that he pay $10 a week for his daughter's support, she said. He paid $150 about three years ago and nothing since, she added.

Mrs. Luraas said that she didn't want money, however, and that her main motive in making the marriage public was to induce Farrell to allow her present husband to adopt Heidi legally.

Mrs. Luraas' letter to the Daily News was attached to a News picture of Farrell peering through a telescope, captioned "Eyeing his future."

"As long as Donald G. Farrell is eyeing his future, why not let him gaze into the telescope, turn it toward Troy, N. Y., and take stock of his daughter's future," the letter said.

Will Sign Adoption
She signed it: "Yours truly, (Mrs.) Norma J. Luraas; (the former) Mrs. Donald G. Farrell."

Mrs. Luraas said she had been unable to get in touch with Farrell for two years but recently saw his picture in newspapers and on television.

Farrell readily admitted the facts of his marriage, the Daily News reported, but said he had not realized that he was supposed to continue support payments for Heidi after his former wife remarried.

Mrs. Luraas married her present husband, Robert Luraas, 30, in September 1954. They have two

CLAIMS TOO FEW LAWBREAKERS ON PROBATION

HARRISBURG (AP) — A penal expert has recommended an overhaul of Pennsylvania parole and probation procedures, claiming the state has too many lawbreakers in institutions and too few on probation.

The remarks were made Tuesday at a meeting of the local Pennsylvania Citizens Assn. by Milton G. Rector, assistant director of the National Probation and Parole Assn., New York City.

Rector told the meeting that a good probation system will, for instance, supervise a youngster for about $200 a year, whereas it costs about $2,300 a year to maintain sons, aged 2 years and 6 months, and live in suburban Poenstentkill.

Farrell, after conferring with his parents, said, "We think it best for Heidi to be adopted. It would be in her best interests."

Farrell said he had telephoned Mrs. Luraas' lawyer, Matthew M. Dunne, in Troy, an arranged to see him Monday to sign the necessary papers.

him in an institution.

The group also received a report from Rector on a six-months study made by him and his staff of probation conditions in the state's 97 counties.

Poor Probation Procedures

Rector said he found: Pre-hearing investigation work on juvenile offenders is excellent in 8 per cent of the counties, good in 14 per cent, fair in 28 per cent, poor in 50 per cent.

Probation and parole supervision for juveniles is good in 8 per cent, fair in 12 per cent, poor in 80 per cent.

Adult probation and parole procedures are poor in every county. Probation officers are "badly underpaid" and overloaded with work.

He recommended that adult probation and parole be handled entirely at the state level. For juvenile offenders, he added, the State Department of Welfare should supervise and set standards, but the counties could continue to handle the actual operation and administration.

CITES NEED TO INCREASE STATE EDUCATION AID

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Unless there is a major increase in state aid to expand present facilities, six children out of seven starting school this year will be deprived of a college education in Pennsylvania, Dr. Eric A. Walker said Tuesday night.

The president of Pennsylvania State University declared that "the private colleges and universities are now operating at or near maximum capacity and cannot force adequate resources for expanding that capacity."

Speaking at the annual dinner of the Pennsylvania Manufacturers' Assn., Dr. Walker told the industrialists:

"It is simply good business for the state to provide an adequate system of colleges and universities. Today's industry depends on trained manpower and as industry becomes increasingly more complex, more automated, this dependence becomes even greater."

In a thumbnail statistical analysis of the educational situation, Dr. Walker said that Pennsylvania appropriates $3.55 of every $100 in taxes as compared with $12.50, for example, in 11 Western states.

He said that there were 173,000 students enrolled in 125 colleges in the state, 121,000 of them on a full-time basis.

He said that even without the expected increase of one per cent a year in the number of students enrolled, by 1970 the number of full-time students will jump to 178,000. The figure is likely to be higher, he said, because there will be some 300,000 more teen-agers in the state by then.

Increase Enrollment
"Unless we want to limit the privilege of going to college to one boy or girl out of each seven by 1970, we will have to increase the full-time enrollment xxx by at least 57,000 and possibly as much as 186,000," he said.

Ignoring research development, salary adjustments and facilities for the part-timers, he figured it would cost 250 millions for new buildings alone.

"Pennsylvania must embrace

Orders Hearing On Violence At Kohler

WASHINGTON (AP) — Chairman McClellan (D-Ark.) has ordered immediate public hearings by the Senate Rackets Investigating Committee on violence in the four-year-old Kohler strike.

McClellan rejected a demand by the committee's Democratic members that the hearing start with testimony from Walter Reuther, president of the United Auto Workers, and top officials of the Kohler Co., Wisconsin manufacturer of plumbing fixtures.

McClellan ordered that the first witness called should be "the smallest witness with respect to importance" as he said the Republican members had wanted.

Robert F. Kennedy, the committee counsel, said the witness would be Allan Graskamp, president of the UAW's Kohler Local No. 832, but that he did not regard him as the "smallest" witness.

The Western concept of state responsibility for higher education to a far greater extent than it has in the past," Dr. Walker said.

Considering the problem on a broader scale, Dr. Walker warned that if the United States is to meet the Soviet challenge "and protect our stake in the scientific age we've entered, we must increase — not decrease — our educational efforts both in quality and in quantity."

Martin Speaks
Retiring Sen. Edward Martin also spoke at the dinner.

The former Republican governor and onetime head of the Pennsylvania National Guard, who is leaving the Senate after two terms, said the nation is suffering an economic recession but criticized those "who seem to welcome the rise in unemployment as a vehicle on which they can ride to political advantage."

He said the nation was fortunate in having President Eisenhower at its head at this time in history — a man who will uphold "freedom of the individual against those who would enslave mankind under the dictatorship of the state."

When a gelatin recipe directs you to chill the mixture until it "mounds," remember that a spoonful of the mixture dipped up and dropped down again should form a definite small heap.

71 ADDITIONAL STATE LIQUOR LICENSES OPEN

HARRISBURG (AP) — Seventy-one additional liquor license vacancies have been certified following a special census in 13 communities, the State Liquor Control Board reported yesterday.

Almost a third—29—are in Falls Twp. in Lower Bucks County, which has seen rapid expansion since the 1950 census. Another 15 vacancies are in Springfield Twp., Delaware County.

The liquor code permits one licensed establishment for each 1,000 population. Falls had been permitted only four under the last regular census and is now allowed 28. Springfield's quota went up to 26 from 11.

Only one application is pending for the 29 Falls Twp. vacancies, the board noted, and none for the 15 Springfield Twp. licenses.

The board also listed these other unfilled quotas (old quota, new quota and applications pending in parentheses):

3 In Adams County
Adams County, Mt. Pleasant Twp., 1 (2, 3, 0); Beaver, Hopewell Twp., 4 (7, 13, 1); Delaware, Chester Twp., 1 (4, 5, 0); Upper Providence Twp., 3 (4, 6, 0); Montgomery, Montgomery Twp., 1 (2, 3, 0); Plymouth Twp., 4 (6, 10, 4); Upper Moreland Twp., 8 (9, 17, 0); and York, Newberry Twp., 1 (3, 4, 0).

At the same time the board reported it has distributed $3,276,950 to communities for retail license

Delay In Funds May Slow Trial, DA Says

MEDIA, Pa. (AP) — Dist. Atty. Raymond R. Start said today that a delay in completing an audit of the alleged shortage of funds of the Collingdale school district probably will delay indictment of Faber E. Stengle, fired school superintendent accused of embezzlement.

Stengle is charged with looting the school treasury over the past 12 to 15 years.

fees covering the period from Aug. 1, 1957, to last Jan. 31.

It included $175,225 to communities in Schuylkill County, $155,150 in Delaware County; $134,350 in Montgomery, $108,225 in Northampton, $76,750 in Lancaster, $76,575 in Northumberland, $51,750 in York and $48,225 in Chester County. These amounts included $56,225 to the city of Chester, $36,925 to Lancaster City and $29,325 to the city of York.

In a report on 1957, Board Chairman Patrick E. Kerwin noted that earnings for the year were more than $12 million dollars over earnings for 1956 and sales in 1957 reached an all-time record of $269,426,541.

Kerwin said audited figures showed earnings for the year of $71,407,960, including $24,477,255 from the 10 per cent tax.

NAME SERGEANT PRESIDENT OF PAL MOVEMENT

HARRISBURG (AP) — Sgt. Jimmy Sunday did a lot of thinking during the many lonely hours he spent in the last seven years pounding a beat on the Harrisburg police force.

In the course of that thinking, Jimmy said he came upon a motto to which he maintains is the key to the success of the Police Athletic League movement in Pennsylvania.

"When a kid gets in trouble who is the first person called? A cop. So why not call a cop sooner and keep the kids out of trouble?"

It was his almost fanatical belief in the good to come from following such a slogan that Jimmy feels raised the PAL movement to a spot of high prominence in Pennsylvania during the last 18 months.

PAL In 11 Cities
Less than a year and a half ago, Philadelphia was the only Pennsylvania city with a PAL program.

Today there are 11 cities in the state which sponsor PAL organizations and Pennsylvania is the only state to guide the program on a statewide basis.

It is an organization dedicated to "keeping the children between the ages of 6 and 17 busy and interested and active in healthy, educational and entertaining pastimes."

Sunday estimated there are 8,000 boy and girl members of PAL units in Pennsylvania with clubs in Harrisburg, Philadelphia, Carlisle, Reading, Pennbrook (suburban Harrisburg), Allentown, Hazleton, Erie, Liverpool, Coatesville and Bethlehem.

Sunday, who was named president of the statewide organization he did so much to establish, looks for an even greater PAL growth during the next year.

"We are growing every day and I don't see a letup until we have clubs in every little hamlet in the state," Sunday predicted.

HARRISBURG (AP) — The status of 880 applicants for licenses as real estate brokers or salesmen was left up in the air today because of a double-pronged legal problem facing the State Real Estate Commission.

Dr. Harold Alderfer, deputy superintendent of public instruction in charge of professional licensing, said the group took an examination Feb. 8 without prior screening by the commission of their qualifications.

Says One Military Chief Not Answer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense McElroy apparently doesn't regard the idea of a single military chief of staff as the solution to the nation's defense problems.

"That idea was not pressed on me by my consultants," McElroy said on Monday on his return from a long weekend conference in Puerto Rico with senior military and civilian advisers on various proposals.

Without elaborating, the defense chief said much of the discussion centered on ways of streamlining the Pentagon and the military services "to get more rapid decisions." The proposal of some critics for designation of a single chief of staff, he added, was "not under predominant consideration."

McElroy said recommendations for reorganization of the defense establishment will be submitted to Eisenhower "late in March."

Foresee No Floods If Weather Is Normal

HARRISBURG (AP) — The Federal State Flood Forecasting Service has discounted any possibility of major flooding in Pennsylvania if the weather follows a normal pattern for this season of the year. "Barring any heavy rains, which aren't too likely at this time of the year, we will have no real trouble from flooding in Pennsylvania," the service said.

How to buy "vitamins"
Door-to-door peddlers are around now, selling vitamin preparations and nutritional supplements. The talk is mighty convincing. But, remember, talk won't do a thing for you. There's only one way to be sure of what vitamin you need if any are needed at all. That is to see your family physician. He and he alone is qualified to prescribe for you. Always buy vitamins or nutritional supplements from a registered pharmacist. Then you'll know what you're getting—and you'll get your money's worth.

Efficient Operation Key To Successful Apple Orchards

The following speech was recently delivered by Henry W. Miller Jr., of Pax Pave, W. Va., to the New Jersey Horticultural Society. We believe it will be of interest to many Adams Countyans.

From reliable statements and figures, this is the age of big time farming with large farmers growing bigger and more prosperous as small farmers often operate at a loss and become fewer in number.

While we concede that this is the case in certain kinds of farming such as wheat and cotton that can be planted, grown and harvested without the touch of a man's hand, and sold on a market flooded with government support prices, where bigger orchards and the latest equipment will not necessarily spell profit.

In recent years, too much has been said about the small apple grower being unable to compete. There is, I believe, just as much danger in being too big as too small. It is not so much how many acres and trees a grower owns, as it is how well he operates what he has.

Efficient Management
Efficient management is the one indispensable ingredient present in every successful enterprise whether it be the manufacture of automobiles, the production of apples, or the operation of a railroad.

The days of making money on apples by simply producing a big volume of ordinary mill-run fruit at a low cost are about over. Sacrificing quality for lower production costs is a very expensive way to grow apples.

Producing, packing and marketing fresh apples requires more skill than ever before and it looks safe to predict that our job will not be any easier in the years ahead.

The year 1957 will go down in apple history as a tough season. Many growers are discouraged at the present sluggish demand and low prices. A well-known apple grower recently said that our industry is suffering from an incurable economic ailment. I agree that our apple business is a bit indisposed and in need of a few major operations, but it is highly improbable that any of us here today will last long enough to become active pallbearers for the apple industry.

Competing Fruits Gain
Informed apple people are properly concerned over the persistent decline in the consumption of apples during a period of unprecedented national prosperity in which certain other competing fruits have made sensational gains.

A number of ideas have been put forth as to why we are in this dangerous situation and several remedies for rescuing the industry have been prescribed by government and industry leaders.

Some claim that the apple business will not be on a sound economic foundation until our fine pre-war export business is regained. Others say that it will be necessary to spend ten or twelve million dollars annually for advertising and still others say that the answer can be found by investing large sums in research. These are splendid ideas that any of us believe in and have supported for along time, but which for certain good and sufficient reasons have never been able to get off the ground. The main purpose of this statement is to briefly discuss what I believe to be the big over-riding basic reason why our industry is sick and why some of these excellent ideas have never had a fair chance.

The main reason for most of today's troubles can be simply stated in few words. "Our product, the fresh apple, is far behind in standardization, better known in other industries as quality control." The term quality-control, as used here, is intended to mean "condition control" and not to be confused with federal and state grades. Extra fancy and fancy markings and certificates mean little when a shipment of apples arrives in the market place out of condition.

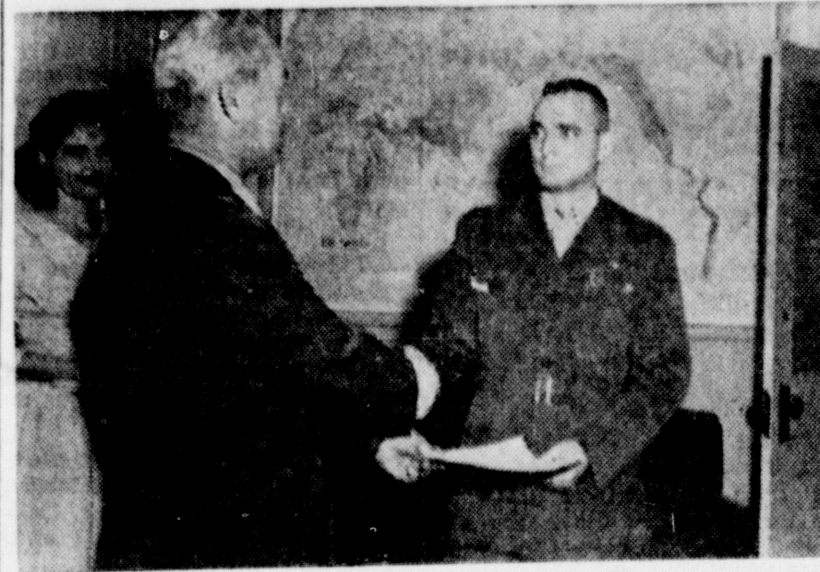

To be disagreeable frank, our product as it now too often goes to market is hardly worth spending ten or twelve million dollars to advertise on a national scale, and it is embarrassing to relate that apple growers of certain other countries which we have commonly believed to be still operating in a horse and buggy manner, are now crowding us hard in the markets of Europe and South America, with quality packs equal to or above the very best from this country. If you entertain any doubts as to the truth of this statement, I suggest that you read Dr. Fred Motz's excellent article, "Summary of the 1956-57 Delicious Export Season," released after last year's selling season. When the "chips" were all down in England and certain other foreign markets last season, American shippers, with a few exceptions, had lost the game due to irregular packs too often delivered in poor condition.

Delicious Market Discussed
To illustrate how we get ourselves in trouble, let's consider what has happened to the Delicious market this season. When Red Delicious grew large enough and pink enough to begin to look like apples, many shippers in North Carolina, the Virginias, and even New Jersey, started rushing them to market to get the big, early money of five or six dollars a bushel.

Many excuses were used for this slaughter of one of our finest varieties. Some said they had to pick early to get in ahead of the Northwest and others claimed that there wasn't any use waiting for real color anyway because it never came in their particular locality. These short-sighted growers got the big money all right, but they cheated our consumers with worthless fruit and thereby hit the 1957 apple market a staggering blow below the belt early in the first round.

2 Months To Recover
After the deliberate man-made disaster, it took almost two months to get the Delicious market back in its feet with a good movement at fairly regular prices, not high, but generally satisfactory. This comparatively healthy Delicious market lasted for a few weeks and then the roof fell in. Instead of the expected heavy shipments of superquality, well-priced Delicious from the Northwest, our markets were swamped with over-sized, under-flavored, and often off-condition Northwest Delicious at fire sale prices.

The Chains and Independents quickly loaded up on this supposedly fine bargain for "Apple Weew." Mrs. Housewife was told by newspaper, radio and TV that apples are particularly good now at very reasonable prices. After hearing and reading this, our wonderful female hunters naturally trotted off to the markets to stock up on apples that were often no good to eat raw and about as good to cook as West Virginia "dow-horn" turnips. Today the housewife that knows anything at all about fruit is well sold on

The idea that apples are not good this year and she is rightly turning to other fruits that are.

Fewer Apples Consumed
The 1957 Delicious debacle is just a fair sample of what we apple people are doing to ourselves. Is it any wonder that prices are down and fewer fresh apples are being consumed? I often wonder why people buy as many as they do. This illustration of why many apple people are in trouble today is used here to try to point up the crying need for standardization and condition-control in our industry.

The tremendous value of condition-control is no wild myth. It's a well-proven economic fact. People are ready and eager to buy "more apples at better prices" when they can do so with safety and confidence. This fact has been well-proven by a few clever operators who have so well standardized their individual brands, that even today they can sell apples at a fair profit with plenty of takers every day.

Quality In Citrus Fruits
Take quality-control in citrus fruits. Are California oranges worth about two dollars per box more than Florida oranges? Well, you and I well-know they are not. But, the fact stands that for many years California growers have sold all they could raise year after year at a handsome premium. Many years ago, the California boys outsmarted their Florida competitors by introducing strict quality-control and then advertising the fact that California oranges are more generally of higher quality with less waste and therefore, the safest and most economical buy. They first applied high, uniform standards and then advertising paid off.

Over forty years ago, the great Phil Armour woke up the meat packing business by introducing quality-control. Back in those leisurely times of slow transportation and little refrigeration, it was considered impossible to deliver uncured meats, still fresh and tasty to consumers hundreds of miles away, but Armour was smart enough to do the job and it paid off far beyond his wildest dreams.

Ship At Maturity
In those days of fast transportation, modern refrigeration, and quick turnover, it should be comparatively easy to do for apples what Armour did for meat. Phil Armour's slogan was, "Nothing advertises or disadvertsises a product like the product itself." The Washington State Maturity Law is a fair sample of what our industry can and must do if we are to successfully compete in the most modern marketing system ever devised by man.

Our worthy competitors in Washington State have made it impossible by law for growers to ship Delicious and other major varieties until the apple reaches proper maturity. This is a big step in the right direction that should be copied here in the East, and I believe both East and West should go further in this direction by promptly trying to find ways and means to stop the shipping for fresh use of apples that have become over-mature before being packed.

Serious Industry Challenge
We have this year seen many thousands of crates of apples racked up like stove wood in orchards and sheds and left for days, and sometimes weeks, waiting their turn to be packed and stored for eventual shipment to the fresh markets. In fairness to those growing apples in the East, I have seen more of this in Washington State than elsewhere.

As I see it, the marketing problems we face today add up to the most serious industry challenge of our time. The question is—Do we truly recognize this industry-wide emergency and are we willing and able to pool our minds and energies to devise practical plans to meet it.

A meeting of the best minds in our industry has often proven profitable in the past. Let's try it again. The need of practical planning followed by constructive education is greater than ever before. Returning to the subject, "A Commercial Apple Grower Looks Ahead."

Apples Not Overplanted
I do not believe that apples are overplanted in this country. Many

BLIMP BREAKS FROM MOORING AT LAKEHURST

LAKEHURST, N. J. (AP)—A blimp that had broken loose from its mooring mast at the naval air station was found deflated, on the ground early today.

A Civil Aeronautics Authority spokesman said the blimp came down only three miles from the station in an area southwest of here.

There had been speculation that the runaway blimp might endanger air navigation. The CAA, while not ordering any flight cancellations, had warned all aircraft in the area to be on the alert.

LT. (j.g.) Peter DiConza, public information officer at the air station, said the blimp apparently broke free after being rocked by gusty winds.

Two Sailors Injured
Two sailors were injured when they jumped from the gondola as the lighter-than-air craft broke loose. The sailors were not identified.

The ship, officially described as a derelict of the M4 class, is a cut 300 feet long and carries 725,000 cubic feet of helium.

Built about 15 years ago, it has not been flown for more than a decade and was used primarily for gathering experimental data.

A helicopter pilot, LT. (j.g.) Robert Kaus, located the blimp in a wooded area on the air station grounds.

DiConza said it had not yet been determined just what caused the blimp to come down. He suggested, however, that the airship may have caught on a tree.

Sunbeam Abandons Fair Trade Policy

CHICAGO (AP)—Sunbeam Corp. of Chicago has followed action by General Electric Co. and for "competitive" reasons has ordered elimination of fair trade practices on its small products.

Sunbeam distributors across the nation have been notified that the order is effective today, said C. C. Mendler, sales vice president.

Earlier, General Electric Co. in New York announced it was scrapping its fair trade practices on small appliances, giving storekeepers the privilege to sell them at any price. Sunbeam products affected by the order include many of the same items covered in the GE order—toasters, coffee makers, mixers, etc.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Frederic M. Dearborn Jr., 45, special assistant to President Eisenhower for security operations coordination, died yesterday. He was a former member of a Boston law firm and served two years as legal counsel to Christian Herter, undersecretary of state, while Herter was governor of Massachusetts.

Home gardeners in the United States spend over 800 million dollars annually for seeds and potted plants.

more trees can be profitably employed if and when we become smart enough to introduce real condition-control.

I firmly believe that the best years for the apple growers of America are ahead of rather than behind us, provided we are willing and able to adopt up-to-date 1957 methods, based on the well-proven principle of delivering a quality product in good condition, properly advertised, and don't forget that one without the other won't bring the answer. A good product and advertising must go hand in hand.

And finally, producing apples is basically a good business. It would have to be. Any industry that can commit so many economic sins, both of omission and commission, and still live must have a great future for those with the know-how, faith and vigor to stay in the game.

SAYS CABINET WILL DECIDE ON WHO WILL RULE

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Dirksen (R-Ill.) predicted today the Senate Judiciary Committee will agree on a proposed constitutional amendment which would permit the Cabinet to determine presidential disability by a majority vote.

Dirksen, assistant Republican leader, said in an interview he is confident such a proposal can get committee approval if it is committed to give Congress a voice in determining when disability ends and when a president may resume his duties.

Dirksen said this could be done by permitting Congress to pass on the question of whether a disabled president had recovered sufficiently to take over again.

Favors Amendment
President Eisenhower disclosed he has reached an understanding under which Vice President Nixon "knows exactly what he should do" if another serious illness overtakes the President.

Eisenhower said he thinks there should be a constitutional amendment to cover future cases.

GOP congressional leaders professed ignorance of the terms of the understanding Eisenhower said had been reached, but they assumed it provides that if the President himself were unable to decide the question, Nixon and the Cabinet would determine if the President were incapacitated. They also assumed that if the President subsequently recovered his full faculties, Nixon would step aside and Eisenhower would resume his duties.

Littlestown TAX ORDINANCE IS ADOPTED BY TOWN COUNCIL

The Littlestown Town Council at its February meeting Tuesday evening adopted finally the 1958 tax ordinance and renewed the 10 per cent borough tax on admissions to amusements and a $5 tax on pin-ball machines. The tax ordinance continues the former 18-mill levy on real estate and occupation assessments.

All members of council attended the meeting with President Donald L. Bedford presiding.

The council also directed that proposed construction of W. Myrtle St. between James and Rita Marie Aves., provided for in the 1958 budget, be started as rapidly as possible "to help the unemployment problem." It was agreed, however, that notices to property holders should first be sent to require the construction of curbing and sidewalks. When that work is done, the street can be built.

Secretary Roger J. Keefe informed council that an inquiry has been received from Sam F. Meisenholder, York realtor, relative to the proposed construction of a market on the west side of N. Queen St. in Germany Twp. adjacent to the borough. The York inquiry was relative to sewer and water facilities for the proposed market. The secretary said he had informed the York man the developers of the area have not filed any plans with the borough which are required before any arrangements for utilities can be made.

Secretary Keefe was authorized to advertise for bids for "Old Fannie," the American La France fire engine that is to be sold to make room in the engine house for a new piece of fire fighting equipment the Alpha Fire Company has decided to buy.

Several requests for street repairs were turned over to the street commissioner. Bad surface conditions on E. King St. in the fourth block, Delaware Ave. and W. Myrtle St. were listed for attention.

Secretary Keefe also submitted to council a copy of the annual report of the borough auditors for 1957.

The monthly report of Chief of Police Calvin W. Mummert showed meter collections of $459.08 in January. The chief also reported 42 overtime parking violations, two in no parking zones and one too close to an intersection. He also listed three charges of passing a red light, two for passing a flashlight red light, one too fast for conditions and one for passing a railroad flashing signal. Chief Mummert reported three accident investigations, one case of larceny and gave assistance to four four outside agencies. There were four funeral escorts.

Council received and refused a claim for damages of about $32 to the car of Paul S. Beecher, Littlestown R. 2, which was damaged when it struck a parking sign post on Maple Ave. while the car was being parked along the curb. Council refused to pay the claim on grounds of "no liability."

Signs For "Blind" Intersection
Council directed that additional stop signs be placed at a "blind" intersection of the Zerling and Foundry alleys.

The councilmen approved for payment bills totaling $2,133 from

Littlestown VFW TO HOLD SPRING DANCE

Mason and Dixon Memorial Post No. 6954, Veterans of Foreign Wars, met on Tuesday evening at the post home, with Commander Malcolm Harner presiding. Preliminary plans were discussed for the annual spring dance to be held at Banker's Recreation Center on a date to be selected. It was announced that the next quarterly meeting of the Twenty-first District will be held on Sunday, March 16, in Waynesboro.

Donations were voted to the Adams County YMCA and to the Adams County Heart Association. Members should note that insurance for those who belong to the post will be delinquent unless dues are paid by Friday of this week. It was previously stated that dues should be paid by November 28; the date should be February 28. Following group prayer, Mrs. Walter Yingling and Mrs. Malcolm E. Hess were in charge of entertainment. Mrs. Hess contributed the guess package, received by Mrs. Lipsey. age salary of those not in the teaching profession was $1,413. Today the teacher's salary has increased, on the average, from $1,417 to $3,825, and the average salary of persons in other businesses has increased from $1,413 to $4,357.

Mrs. Joseph B. Jacoby, Baltimore, is spending the week with her sister, Mrs. Roberta Buddy, and daughter, Marie, N. Queen St., following the sudden death of her husband, who was buried on Monday morning in St. Aloysius Catholic Cemetery.

Student Cost Increases
"Nationally the cost of teaching each student per year has increased from $97.15 in 1932 to $350.96 now. Here Adams county is a little below the national average, because it costs an average of $341.63 per year today to educate a child in the Adams County schools. Nationally approximately 31 per cent of the students are transported to school. We are a rural county and here 59 per cent of the students travel to school by bus — which explains why the schools closed during last week's blizzard."

"In Adams County school population increased from 6,601 in 1947 to 8,349 in 1957. Nationally the number of children in schools increased from 26,354,817 in 1932 to 33,013,000 in 1957."

Elmer R. Hoke, Biglerville, president of the bankers association and a member of a school board, told the group: "Don't blame high costs of schooling on the school boards. Out of a $500,000 budget about $425,000 is mandated by the state, leaving only about $75,000 on which the school board has a chance to use its discretion."

Tribute was paid the memory of Edmund W. Thomas, past president of the association and president of The First National Bank of Gettysburg, who died last Saturday, for "his outstanding ability as a banker, and for his spirit of service to the Adams County Bankers Association." A resolution of regret and appreciation was adopted.

OWENSBORO, Ky. (AP)—A publicity-shy former British soldier, chief beneficiary of a 1 1/2 million dollar estate, says he'll get a big kick out of helping his friends and charities with the money.

Henry Edward Baker said, "We just want to be left alone quietly with our friends," after the inheritance was disclosed yesterday.

Mrs. Jessie McCoy Nutty left a major share of her $1,503,455 estate to Baker. She was the widow of Gale R. Nutty, former president of Gulf Refining Co. Mrs. Nutty died last August.

Baker, now 68, met Nutty in England in 1919 while working for an oil company.

Was Private Secretary

"We hit it off fine. I liked him and he liked me," Baker escorted the oilman around Europe and came to his country in 1926 as Nutty's confidant and private secretary. When Nutty died in 1939, Baker continued as secretary to Mrs. Nutty. He became an American citizen in 1927 in Pittsburgh. He moved here in 1952.

"I intend to remain in Owensboro and continue to work. I can be a little more generous with the charities in which I have been interested. I can help my friends who are in need and I'll get a big kick out of it."

Baker belongs to no clubs and has an unlisted telephone. "I have an aversion to publicity and photographers. I guess I inherited that from Mr. Nutty," he said.

Baker manages the Pennsylvania-Indiana Oil Co. from the modest, suburban brick home where he lives with his French-born wife.

flour, 1/4 teaspoon baking soda, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1 cup sugar, 1/2 teaspoon vanilla, 1 cup dark molasses, 5 tablespoons butter or margarine (melted), 4 egg whites, 1 cup (fairly lightly packed) flaked coconut.

Method: Sift together the cake flour, baking soda and salt. Beat the sugar, vanilla, molasses and melted (slightly cooled) butter together with a rotary beater (hand or electric) enough to blend. Add unbeaten egg whites and beat enough to blend. Add unbeaten egg whites and beat enough to blend. Do not overmix. Stir in coconut. Line the bottoms of two baking pans (each 8 by 8 by 2 inches) with waxed paper; grease paper well. Turn batter into pans. Bake in moderate (350 degrees) oven 35 minutes or until cake tester inserted in center comes out clean. Turn out at once on cake racks and strip off paper. Turn right side up. Cool about 10 minutes; cut in 2-inch squares. When cold store in tightly covered container. Makes 32 cookies.

Doubts If Storm Damaged Pa. Game

HARRISBURG (AP)—The State Game Commission said Tuesday it doubted that last week's snow storm did very much damage to Pennsylvania wild birds and game.

However, a commission spokesman said official word on how the game weathered the storm in northern and mountain areas will not be given until complete reports are received from the field.

The spokesman said high winds in the southern and southeastern areas of the state cleared many fields and uncovered waste grain which birds and game used to feed upon.

CALL SESSION ON UNEMPLOYMENT

By JOHN KOENIG JR.

AP Special Washington Service
WASHINGTON (AP)—Pennsylvania's congressional delegation—with a baker's dozen Republicans expected to be absent—meets with Gov. Leader today in a bipartisan conference on rising unemployment in the commonwealth.

The session was expected to be a lengthy one with the Republicans who do attend ready to grill the governor on what measures the state administration has taken to bring immediate and long-range job relief to the state's employed.

As the session got underway, Rep. Fenton, chairman of the French Used U. S. Planes In Attack

WASHINGTON (AP)—A State Department official says there "was certainly no excuse" for the French to use U.S. military aid equipment in their much-criticized attack on a Tunisian village Feb. 8.

And Deputy Undersecretary of Pennsylvania GOP delegation and one of those staying away from the parley, released a statement renewing his plea for tax reduction as a means of curbing the current recession.

An across the board tax cut for both individuals and corporations, Fenton said, would "put more money in the pockets of the individual to pump into the economy from the bottom up."

Savings, Loan Office Robbed Of $35,000

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A $35,000 burglary was discovered at a mid-

State C. Douglas Dillon said on Tuesday this country intends to take every precaution to prevent similar use in the future.

Dillon, replying to questions at a foreign aid rally, did not identify the equipment used in the attack. But he presumably referred to Corsair fighters used in the raid.

He made no mention of a secret report saying substantial quantities of U.S. material were diverted by France to North Africa, where it is trying to suppress rebellious Algerians.

city savings and loan association Wednesday.

Police described the haul as one of the largest such in the city in years.

The theft was discovered when the manager of the Philadelphia Federal Savings and Loan Assn., at 1619 Chestnut St., opened the place for business this morning.

The money was taken from a safe in a rear office. The safe was open and the money missing. There was no indication anyone had broken into the office. Only two doors give access to the building, and both were locked.

The FBI was called in because the savings association is insured by federal insurance.

Noted novelist Zane Grey was born in Zanesville, Ohio.

SOVIET'S NEW AMBASSADOR IS FULL OF IDEAS

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
WASHINGTON (AP) — Soviet Ambassador Mikhail Menshikov told The Associated Press in an interview he would like to see top Soviet leaders visit the United States and American leaders go to Russia.

His sweeping assertion included Soviet Communist boss Nikita Khrushchev and Vice President Richard Nixon.

"I think personally that the more exchanges we have on all kinds of levels—from the very top to the bottom—the better," Menshikov said.

Here Three Weeks
Menshikov, who arrived in Washington only three weeks ago, assailed what he called "artificial restrictions and discrimination" imposed by the United States on trade with the Soviet Union and said they ought to be removed.

He also said "we don't compete at all" with the United States in assisting the industrial development of such countries as India. And he called for a start "as soon as possible" on arrangements for a summit conference.

Menshikov, 55 and an expert in foreign trade, is something new on the diplomatic scene in Washington — an English-speaking Soviet envoy who is smiling, friendly, relaxed.

Glad-Hander
He has spent his first three weeks glad-handing high officials from President Eisenhower down and pushing a whirlwind campaign for trade and better relations between the world's two

Catholics Seeking Big Charity Fund

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Archbishop John F. O'Hara announced yesterday the Catholic Church will seek $1,600,000 throughout the ten-county jurisdiction of the Philadelphia Archdiocese for support of charities.

Archbishop O'Hara said this drive marks the first diocesan-wide campaign for such aid.

Money donated will be used to help 53 Catholic Church institutions, including 23 child care centers and 15 homes for the aged. None of these institutions receive Community Chest aid.

In addition to business firms and labor organization solicitations, a special collection will be taken in churches May 4.

Four regional headquarters will be set up in Media, Reading, Allentown and Shenandoah.

LAST SURVIVOR
COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP) — Harmon Wynkoop, 85, is the last survivor of eight children of Edward W. Wynkoop, who was in the group helping to found Denver in 1858.

A Denver street is named after Wynkoop's father.

ADDRESSEE KNOWN
DES MOINES (AP) — Mr. and Mrs. Tony Mihailovich of Des Moines received a card addressed: Mr. and Mrs. Toney Molivich, Northeast 14th Inside City Limits, Two Big Pine Trees in Front Yard, Des Moines, Ia.

greatest powers.
The interview took place late yesterday in an ornate parlor of the Soviet Embassy. It lasted about 75 minutes. Here in summary are the principal points Menshikov made:

1. Summit conference—A meeting on the great issues dividing the West and Russia "should not be delayed."

2. Soviet criticism of the United States — Menshikov said he had read articles in the United States critical of the Soviet Union and went on: "There has been a lot of misunderstanding and, if you like, misrepresentation." But he thought criticism would decrease "the more we understand each other's position" and the more international tensions are relaxed.

3. U.S.-Soviet differences — There will always be some sort of disagreement. Ideological differences should not necessarily produce bad feelings between the two countries.

4. U.S.-Soviet trade—"Artificial restrictions and discriminations have been imposed on trade between our two countries. First, all of this didn't cause any harm to our country. Second, your country didn't gain anything from that."

Menshikov said the United States and Russia should "normalize the economic relationship and mutually advantageous trade." He said Russia could sell such goods as caviar and commodities like furs, skins, chromium ore, platinum and manganese. Russia would like to buy machinery, industrial and agricultural products.

LOOKS FAMILIAR

MCLESTER, Okla. (AP) — While playing near her home, 5-year-old Marsha Keuhner saw a familiar looking bicycle sticking out of the trunk of a car.

She checked and found it was one stolen from her. Marsha told her parents, who called officials. The bike was in the trunk of Sheriff O. A. Pruitt's car. He had just recovered it from two boys who had stolen it.

MOUNTAIN CORN

PALISADE, Colo. (AP) — Palisade in western Colorado is a long way from the Midwest corn belt, but farmer Fred Maurer grew corn stalks 15 feet tall. He calls it tamale corn because the husks are used to wrap tamales, a Mexican delicacy made of crushed corn and minced meat.

James MARLOW Reports

The Associated Press

WASHINGTON (AP) — The new Soviet ambassador to the United States, looking like a small-town banker in his Western clothes and an expensive Italian hat, has lost no time spreading his gospel.

The gospel — as expounded by Mikhail Menshikov, 55—is better understanding between East and West, more cooperation, more trade, more friendly relations all around. He's an expert on trade. He's done a lot of talking since his arrival here Feb. 6 — both to newsmen outside the doors of offices he's visited and in interviews — but so far he hasn't said anything his bosses in the Kremlin could be angry about.

Talks In English.
He talks in English, which he knows well. He started talking immediately after he landed in a 500-mile-an-hour Russian jet plane. He marched right up to a battery of microphones.

Those first words at the airport set the pattern for practically everything he's said since: "I have been sent to your country by my government as an ambassador of peace, friendship and cooperation."

There's quite a switch between the way he handles newsmen and the way his predecessor Georgi

Zarubin did it. Menshikov talks for publication although what he says is pretty much what he said before.

Like Happy Salesman
Zarubin went in a lot for off-the-record statements. But where Zarubin spoke broken English, Menshikov is fluent with it. Even the difference in the appearance of the two men is a switch.

Menshikov looks like a kind of happy salesman. The dark and somber Zarubin looked almost like a character out of a mystery novel.

Called On Nixon
Menshikov lost no time visiting Secretary of State Dulles, with whom he exchanged pleasantries. Then he visited President Eisenhower and stayed half an hour. Most ambassadors presenting their credentials at the White House stay about 10 minutes.

But this was just a starting point for Menshikov. Next he called on Vice President Nixon, explaining afterwards that Soviet policy is to "establish personal contacts" in different fields and among "leading personalities."

Next he bobbed up in the office of Eisenhower's No. 1 right-hand man Sherman Adams. Asked if he didn't think this was a bit unusual, he smiled and said: "I am not very familiar with protocol."

He plans to call on the various members of Eisenhower's Cabinet will visit a number of American cities, and soon will make a speech at the National Press Club. It's customary there, after a speaker finishes, for him to answer questions. No doubt Menshikov will follow the custom.

His Background
It's a safe bet he can handle himself well enough not to get into trouble.

He's spent a lifetime in the fields of trade and commerce. And his knowledge of English came from 13 years in places where it's spoken. He was ambassador to India four years, was three years with the United Nations in New York, and was a Russian trade expert in London six years.

PAULISTS HONORED

NEW YORK (AP) — Distinguished Roman Catholic prelates across the country will join in various ceremonies this year commemorating the 100th anniversary of the founding of the Paulist Fathers by a convert from Methodism, Isaac Thomas Hecker. The order is dedicated primarily to bringing church teachings to those outside the fold in the United States.

DISPUTE OVER USE OF "FAIR TRADE" PRICES POPS UP AGAIN

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) — One of the hottest disputes in the retailing world — whether the manufacturer should fix prices under fair trade laws — has popped onto front pages again.

General Electric, one of the foremost proponents of such price setting, is throwing in the towel after a long and costly battle in the courts against merchants who flaunt its policy.

It says retailers can now set their own prices on all its small home appliances except flash-bulbs. Several years ago the company stopped suggesting retail prices for its large home appliances.

Price War Started
Price wars already started among some stores — with consumers picking up bargains, just as they do in gasoline price wars — could have widespread effects in the appliance industry. The battle over fair trade has been particularly hot since the rise of the discount houses. But it has flared in the courts, in Congress and in various state legislatures for years.

Fair trade laws still exist in 32 states. A number of manufacturers are still staunch advocates of fair trade and GE's action may or may not affect their policies.

After a series of defeats in state courts, advocates of fair trade — notably the National Assn. of Retail Druggists — are urging Congress to pass a federal law sanctioning the policy.

Held Constitutional
Most state fair trade laws permit the manufacturer to force all retailers in the state to sell its products at fixed prices, if such a practice has been fixed in a contract with at least one retailer in the state. Courts in 11 states have held this provision unconstitutional.

PRINCESS MAY VISIT STATES NEXT SUMMER

LONDON (AP) — A visit by Princess Margaret to the United States this summer is under top-level consideration in London.

The pretty, 27-year-old princess has long wanted to see America, a country she reads about avidly and admires.

She is due in Canada July 12 for a 24-day official visit. It would be easy for her to take a side trip south of the border.

No British-American consultations about a visit are known to have taken place on any official level. A U.S. stopover apparently is still an idea rather than a project being actively planned, but protocol considerations and other aspects are already being thought about in high places.

Ponder's Problems
Under consideration are such questions as:
Would the British Commonwealth countries which Margaret has not yet visited feel slighted if the princess visited the United States first?

Since Margaret is not a head of state, but has high status as the sister of the Queen, where should any invitation originate?

Would teen-agers and others in America, whose sympathy for Margaret grew after she renounced Peter Townsend, stage frantic welcoming demonstrations that would embarrass the princess and the crown?

On the other hand, would there be any unwanted effect on American opinion if the princess goes to Canada without paying a courtesy call across the border?

Such questions would be weighed carefully here before any moves were made to arrange a visit.

Judge Is Friend In Traffic Court

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Luther Edward Creech, unhappy after receiving a speeding ticket when he was checked going too fast in a radar check zone, decided to get even with the cops.

He circled the block and went through the zone at 10 miles an hour, waving a sign warning others of the trap. The miffed officers arrested Creech again — on charges of driving too slow, and disorderly conduct.

However, in court, Creech found a defender in Judge James Demopolis. The judge told police, "He slowed traffic down, didn't he? That's what the radar was for, wasn't it?"

NAME RECOMMENDED

CHICAGO (AP) — Representatives of four Lutheran churches engaged in negotiations for a merger — the United Lutheran Church, the Augustana Lutheran Church, the Suomi Synod and the American Evangelical Lutheran Church — have recommended that the united body be called: "The Evangelical Lutheran Church in America."

TRAIN KILLS TWO

EMPORIUM, Pa. (AP) — Charles B. Bower, 52, of Emporium R. 1, and Robert K. Houser, 26, of Keating Summit, were killed yesterday as their pickup truck was hit by a Pennsylvania Railroad passenger train at a grade crossing eight miles south of this Cameron County community.

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES

Admits Harassing Levittown Negroes

DOYLESTOWN, Pa. (AP) — A 45-year-old Levittown man has pleaded guilty to charges of harassing the first Negro family that moved into the community last September.

Howard R. Bencic, a greengrocer, pleaded guilty yesterday to base his guilty plea on evidence taken at the trial last Jan. 30 in Bucks County Court. At that time, Bencic collapsed when he arose to present his own case, causing a mistrial.

The defendant is charged with posting and painting signs on the property of two families who were friendly to William E. Myers, Jr. and his family. He is accused also of burning a cross on a third resident's lawn.

His co-defendant, Eldred L. Williams, 48, Levittown, pleaded guilty earlier to a single count of conspiracy. Judge Edwin H. Satterwalthe fined him $50.

"Golden Rule" To Try Pacific Again

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The ketch Golden Rule, forced back by Pacific storms from its protest voyage into the U. S. nuclear test area, will try again.

Skipper Albert Bigelow, Cos Cob, Conn., said plans are being made to sail with a three-man crew for the Bikini-Eniwetok area about March 20. The 30-foot vessel docked last Monday, two weeks after its departure to protest, by its presence, nuclear tests this spring.

Bigelow said 60-m.p.h. winds 700 miles out caused minor damage.

FORCED ENTRY

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — A Dayton man employed a unique tool for breaking and entering, police report. He backed his car through the large glass display window of an appliance store. When police arrived, he was loading a TV set into the car.

Louis Braille, who invented the Braille system which enables the blind to read books by means of raised indentations on the paper, was born with good eyesight. He became blind at the age of three.

TEMPERS FLARE OVER DEFENSE OF SEC. BENSON BY PRESIDENT

By B. L. LIVINGSTONE
WASHINGTON (AP)—Resentment flared among rebellious Midwestern Republicans in Congress today over President Eisenhower's sharply worded defense of Secretary of Agriculture Benson.

As two GOP House members prepared to carry out a protest against Benson's farm policies to the White House later today, Rep. O'Konski (R-Wis.) told newsmen: "So far, I've been under the impression we only needed a new secretary of agriculture. Now I think we also need a new president."

Eisenhower made abundantly clear to his news conference he had no idea of ousting Benson and little thought of interfering with the secretary's farm policies. One or the other has been urged openly by many farm belt Republicans.

"Courage And Honesty"

Praising Benson as a man of courage and honesty, Eisenhower said those advocating his ouster are badly mistaken.

Eisenhower said that by and large the country will be better off if farmers are free from government regulations and operate under free market forces like the rest of the economy.

He also said that Benson's programs generally have had the approval of bipartisan agricultural advisory committees.

Assailed On Floor

Taking the House floor shortly after the President made his statement, Rep. Andersen (R-Minn.) commented bitterly: "It now appears that the President has foreclosed any opportunity to acquaint himself with the facts of life."

Andersen was one of about 30 Midwestern GOP House members seeking to force Benson's resignation or a change in administration farm policies in favor of higher farm price supports.

Rep. Weaver (R-Web.) said, "Mr. Benson is ineffectual because the folks have lost confidence in him. When he lacks that confidence and leadership, the President ought to take cognizance of it."

KOREAN BOY IS GIVEN A "RIDE"

SEOUL, Korea (AP)—A 13-year-old Korean boy caught stealing at a U.S. Army base was put in a wooden packing box and flown 25 miles before being released apparently unharmed, the Army said Wednesday.

A Korean newspaper said he was "forced to flee" after being released "in feeble condition."

Gen. George H. Decker, commander of U.S. forces in Korea, said he "regretted the treatment." The incident Tuesday was being investigated "and appropriate action will be taken," the Army said.

Kim Chung Nyon was caught by members of the 8th Army Aircraft Maintenance Center at Ascom City.

"Apparently Unharmed"

The boy was put "in a wooden packing box used for transporting aircraft parts," and Maj. Thomas G. Jones, Plymouth, Pa., flew the box in a helicopter to an airfield at Uijongbu, the Army said. The size of the box and how tightly it was closed were not disclosed.

At Uijongbu the box was taken to a supply room and the boy, "apparently unharmed," was released and departed from the airstrip," the Army said.

The Seoul newspaper Hankook Ilbo said soldiers and Korean employees heard sounds from the box and opened it. The boy was "whimpering and in feeble condition," his face smeared with black coal tar, the paper said, and he was "forced to flee" from the airstrip.

The Army said he was located Wednesday for the investigation.

Author Of "Peyton Place" Is Divorced

PHENIX CITY, Ala. (AP)—The author of the novel "Peyton Place," which hit the best seller lists and was made into a motion picture, has divorced her husband on grounds of voluntary abandonment.

Judge J. B. Hicks granted the divorce Tuesday to Grace Metalious, 33, in Russell County Circuit Court.

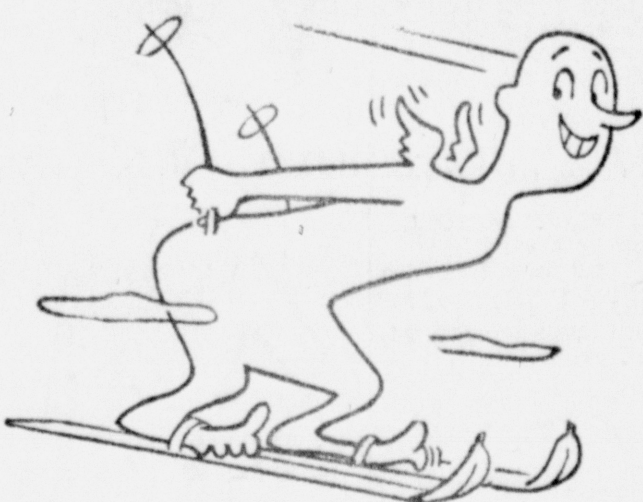

Mrs. Metalious testified that her husband, George, 33, voluntarily abandoned her on Oct. 14, 1956. They were married in 1943. Metalious was listed as a resident of Massachusetts.

The judge barred remarriage except to each other for 60 days. No mention was made of property settlement, money or the three Metalious children, Marshal, 14, Christopher Michael, 10, and Cynthia, 7.

If a recipe directs you to "try out" salt pork, it means that small pieces of the pork should be fried slowly in a skillet until the liquid fat separates from the tissue.
